Deputies Hope Uniform Visor Might Lead To Restaurant Robbers

Sheriff's detectives say a woman who robbed a southeast Shelby County McDonald's restaurant last weekend could have ties to the business. That's because she wore what appears to be a McDonald's visor during the holdup.

For the second time in several months, the McDonald's at 3805 Hacks Cross Road has been robbed. The latest happened late last Friday night, June 5th. As the store was closing about 11 p.m., employees say a man and woman, both armed with pistols, entered the business. The robbers went behind the counter and forced employees to open the safe. After taking cash, the two left the store but no vehicle was seen. No one was hurt during the robbery.

The same McDonald's restaurant was robbed on the night of December 8, 2008. Three people, including the store's assistant manager, Tiffani Chambers, were charged. Chambers, who was on duty at the time, was shot by one of the robbers. Chambers is free on bond awaiting trial. However, Deputies have not linked her to the latest robbery.

Deputies say the woman in last weekend's robbery was heavy set, stood about 5-3, wore a dark-colored jacket, light-colored pants and white tennis shoes. The man stood about 6'1, had a thin build, and wore a dark-colored jacket with gold embroidery, possibly in the design of a bird, gray or khaki pants and white tennis shoes.

Anyone with information about the robbery is asked to call the Shelby County Sheriff's Office General Investigation Bureau at (901) 545-5600 or Crime Stoppers at (901) 528-CASH (2477).
